ALFRED POST TRIES TO RILL MAN WHO AROUSED HIS JEALOUSY. Four Bullets Struck George Burris and the Wounds May Prove Mortal-Shooting Occurred on the Street in Paterson, N. J., and a Bystander Was Hit by One Bullet. PATERSON, N. J., Aug. 15 .- Alfred Post, a wellknown printer, in business here, but living at Midland Park, Bergen county, fired four bullets into George Burris of 3 Pair street at 7 o'clock this evening and then walked to the police station and gave himself up. A fifth bullet that he fired glanced off and struck Henry Abrams in the thigh. Both Burris and Abrams are at the hospital to-night, but only Burris's wounds are serious. The four shots took effect in the lower abdomen and a fatal result is expected. Post, who has been married twelve years, is insanely jealous of his wife, and is said to have treated her so harshly that she found it almost impossible to live with him. Ten days ago she left him suddenly. Her disappearance was so mysterious that foul play was suspected, and for a few days the police of Passaic and Bergen counties were being stirred up by Post to find his wife. On Saturday Post found her here, and took her home with him. Before their marriage Burris had been a suitor for her hand. Post is said to have had great a dislike for Burris since then, and on Saturday he seemed to be under the impression that Burris had alienated the the impression that Burris had alienated the woman's affections and was responsible for her disappearance. Shortly before 7 o'clock this evening. Post, who was driving home, stopped at a saloon on Fair street, next door to which is a barber shop kept by Burris. When Post left the saloon a few minutes later Burris was standing at the barber shop door.

Burris's story is that without a word of warning Post pulled a revolver and fired at him. Post says that Burris called to him as he was going into his wagon, saying that he had something to say to him.

Post answered that he would have nothing to do with him, whereupon Burris rushed at him and said;

I. I have got something to do with you. Well. I have got something to do with you."
At the same time he made a feint of reaching for a pistol. Then Post says he shot in selfdefence. Burris is a heavily built man with a reputation of having an usyl temper. He was greatly under the influence of liquor, as was apparent when he was taken to the hospital.
Very few people were on the street at the time and there was no one to interfere. Post walked the police station as soon as unmolested to the police station as soon as he saw Burris fall.

It is said to-night that during the day Burris was about town making threats with a revolver, and actually did fire it off in a saloon of questionable character, but the report could not be verified. It is also said that Burris was in fear of Post, and had received several threatening letters. Post will be arraigned in the morning. He is 37 and his wife 33 years old.

PULL BURGLAR; PULL WOMAN.

Burglar Pulled the Harder and Got His Cont Tails Free of Mrs. Hoffman's Grasp. Twice within three weeks the residence of Martin Schlesky, in Henry street, Long Island city, has been entered and money and valuables stolen. On the first visit the burgiar made no effort to search bedrooms for valuables, but proceeded quietly from the second floor, where he had climbed in through an open window, to the back parlor, where Mr. Schlesky was asleep on a lounge. There was $25 in cash on the mantelpiece. The burglas Schlesky was asleep on a lounge. There was $25 in cash on the mantelpiece. The burglar took it and departed.

He made his second call last Thursday night and left with a silver watch and $20. The same night the burglar entered the house of Mrs. Hoffman, a neighbor of the Schleskys, and took a silver watch. Mrs. Hoffman, however, woke up, and when she caught a glimpse of the burglar, sprang out of bed and seized him by the coat tails. A sort of see-saw struggle ensued and resulted in the burglar getting free. He made a hasty exit out of the window and disappeared. Mrs. Hoffman says that the man looked right at her, and she plainly saw his face, but feels that she could not identify him.

The police are making every effort to capture the mysterious burglar, and in the meantime the residents of Henry street are polishing up their firearms.

POLICEMAN'S BIG CATCH.

Lands a Sea Eel at Long Branch with His

Policeman Carl Nellsson of the Elizabeth street station returned from his vacation at Long Branch yesterday. Nellsson caught many fish at the Branch. He captured, among others. one of the remarkable Caribbean sea monstrosities known as a "sea eel," or the sea hairsnake. It was 13 feet 2 inches long and weighed 39 pounds 11 ounces.

Nellsson said that he left the fish at a local taxidermist's at Long Branch, and as soon as it is mounted he will have it twined around the chandelier in the parlor. He has the hook with which he caught the fish, and shows it to the other cops. It is a curious hook, of home manufacture. It is seven inches long and it has two harbs and is like a spear point. It is called the "spirit," because of the unusual taking qualities of the instrument. With the "spirit" Nellsson caught almost a barrel of fish every day at Long Branch. They were mostly bluefish and senside suckors (Amalaganthus migalummun ichthulgrim), which have appeared off Long Branch in unusual numbers this year. The seaside suckers are seldom found so far north, but a warm current in the ocean brought them up. The cops at the Eirabeth street station are feasting on the result of Nellsson's remarkable catches. the chandelier in the parlor. He has the

STRANGE PROBABLY DROWNED.

His Clothes Found on the Bank of the Lake Where He Was Camping with a Party. PEERSKILL, N. Y., Aug. 15.-News has just reached here of the supposed drowning of Nel-son Strange, 17 years old, of 134 Valentine street, Mount Vernon, who was a member of a party of Mount Vernon High School boys encamped at Lake Oscawana, nine miles from this village. He was last seen on Saturday when his companions set out for a trip in the woods, leaving him to pack his luggage, as he intended to start for Mount Vernon in the even-intended to start for Mount Vernon in the evening.

When the party returned in the evening Strange's clothing was found on the bank and the boat was drifting in the lake. The boys searched and shouted until nightfall, but without avail. Sunday morning a courier was despatched to atount Vernon, and returned with Fire Commissioner J. N. Lockhart, who is the grandfather of the missing boy. The lake will be dranged at once and dynamite charges fired over it to bring the body to the surface. Young Strange was a good swimmer, but the water in the lake is so cold that it is believed he was taken with cramps or a congestive chill.
Strange was well known in Mount Vernon, and was to have led the Christian Endeavor meeting in the Presbyterian church of that city on Bunday night.

MURDERER TOOK STRYCHNINE

Clauss Killed His Partners on the Kloudike Trail and Was About to Be Hanged.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 15 .- The man Clause, who killed his two partners, Hendrickson and Burns, with an axe while they were sleeping on the Klondike trail in the spring and stole their outfits, has cheated the gallows. He was captured and taken to Nanaimo and was to have been hanged in a few days. The Sheriff last night told him that the sentence would be carried out this week. Clause wept bitterly. Then he asked for a glass of water, drank it, and died shortly after in convulsions.

An examination disclosed the fact that his wife hid strychnine in a pie she brought to him the day before. Mrs. Clause has disappeared.

A Hook Caught Her Dress and Saved Her. While Mrs. Henry Bohlken was in the grobery store of her husband, at 154th street and Court landt avenue, yesterday morning, her 4-yearold daughter, Catharine, fell from the floor window. A hook driven in the window sill caught in her dress and held her suspended. Her screams attracted a crowd. Frederick letcalf. 19 rears old, who lives near by, ran upstairs and dragged the child back into the room.

Variety Show Pioneer Dead in St. Louis.

Sr. Louis, Aug. 15 .- Mrs. Lizzie Esher, who. with her late husband, Jacob, introduced the variety show to St. Louis in 1876, died to-day. She had many conflicts with the police, who raided her Gaiety Theatre frequently. The last trouble with the police was caused by the alleged murder of an Indian Territory merchant in the place. Her daughters Lizzle and Violet, after being educated in Notre Dame Convent, studied for the stage.

SHOT WIFE'S ADMIRER. NOLAN MAD PUN WITH THE TRAINE DUGGAN AT THE TILLER Held Them Up with Balmos's Red Lant

and Others Which He Got. PORT JERVIS, Aug. 15 .- Peter Balmos, a flagman on the New York division of the Eric Bailroad residing at this place, went to Paterson to-day to recover his red signal lamp, which he lost on Saturday night through the queer an-ties of James Nolan of Paterson, formerly a switchman for the Erie. Nolan was either demented or had been drinking on Saturday. for he flagged and held up every train in sight between Paterson and Passaic that night. At Carleton Hill, east of Passaic, he waved his lantern in the face of passenger train 19. When the train stopped he said to the conduc-

When the train stopped he said to the conductor:

"It's all right; go ahead."

He admired Flagman Balmos's red lantern and offered $5 for it, but the flagman said he could not spare it and that it belonged to the company. When the train arrived at Passaic Balmos missed both man and lantern. Nolan then flagged a coal and freight train, after which he entered the signal tower just east of Passaic, and tried to make off with the operator's white light. A tussle followed.

Just then passenger train No. 3 whistled for the signal, and the operator had to attend to his duty. Nolan slipped down the stairs and flagged No. 3. He got on the train and was carried to Paterson, where he was taken into custody, the tower operator having acquainted the conductor with the acts of his singular passenger and then telegraphed to Paterson to arrest him.

who resigned from the faculty of St. George's Hall in this town to go to the Klondike, in a letter from Dawson City, dated June 15, says that everything that can possibly be staked has tains.

"There are thousands of discouraged peple," he writes, "and many who have the means are starting for home. Those who are not able to pay their passage on the boat are not able to pay their passage on the boat are sitting on the bank crying, and must wait for the river to freeze up, when they can take just enough food to last them on a sled and start back the way they came. Many will freeze to death. My partner coaxed me for an hour this morning to go on back to civilization with him. He said I would surely die if I stayed, but I told him I intended to stay as long as my grub lasted. Dawson is a swamp, and the death rate, which is said to be about four a day, is very likely to be increased very shortly. At present we have our boat in Klondike City, on the copposite bank of the Riondike from Dawson. There is a toll bridge for which the charge is $1 to walk across. As we have not yet found a mine we can't stand many trips a day."

STAMPEDE FROM SKAGWAY.

Bich Gold Mines Reported to Have Been Discovered Near Tagish Lake. SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 15.-The passenger and officers of the steamer Cottage City, from Skagway, bring reports of the wildest stampede that has occurred since the discovery of gold on the tributaries of the Klondike. Business men have closed their stores at Skagway railroad employees on the new lines have jumped their jobs by hundreds, and sailors have deserted their ships in the harbor, and have gone to seek gold on Pine Creek, near Tagish Lake, 140 miles from Skagway.

The creek is sixteen miles long, affording room for fifteen hundred claims. The discovered of these parts of the sail of room for liteen hundred chains. The discovery of gold was made by a prospector name Miller of Juneau, who took out from $1 to $ to the pan of coarse gold, valued at $18 a ounce. Twenty-five hundred men have stam peded to the mines within the past ten days.

MOTT STREET'S BALEFUL CAT.

Mr. Wee Mutt Puts an End to It and Its Terrible Spells.

The large black cat with white-tipped tail known in Chinatown as "Ling Wink," which as interpreted by the police experts in Chinese means "wild beast," was caught last night by Wee Mutt of 11 Mott street and killed. Wee was visiting at 15, and was sitting on a mat near a corner of the building, when a car came along the cornice without observing Wee and his friends. Wee had a rattan cane in his and his friends. Wee had a rattan cane in his hand, and brought it down on the cat's neck, stunning it. Then he cut its throat.

Several months ago, it is said, the cat crawled from the fire escape into the window of Mrs. Fung wah's room in Pell street, rolled over on the floor and stood on its hind legs—a sure sign of death in the family, according to a Mott street brand of Chinese superstition. The house went into mourning at once and burned a stack of joss sticks. The cat was accused of casting "spells" over several Chinamen.

One victim to escape the cat's baleful influence turned around three times in every block. Another was doomed to stand on his head in the third story of the third building in Mott street on the third day of the third month for three hours, while three friends played three Chinese fiddles. The "spells" have been declared off.

of the American Iron and Steel Association says that the statistics of iron production for seven months of the current year promise a record that will exceed all previous years. The report gives a very favorable outlook. The foreign demand has given a substantial rise to the annhai exports of the country. It says;

"Much is said in the newspapers about the countries. We repeat what we have herefolore said, that the way to increase these exports is to substitute mail steamship lines between our principal ports and the principal ports of other would be greatly helped by regular and frequent means of communication. We should

WAR ON CHINESE LAUNDRIES.

Laundrymen's Protective Association Issues a Proclamation Against Them.

The Laundrymen's Protective Association which has headquarters at Liberty Hall, 257 East Houston street, started a war against the Chinese laundries yesterday. It issued an appeal to the public which was displayed in all peal to the public which was displayed in all the windows of the laundries operated by its members, asking the people not to patronize the Mongolian washermen. The appeal says that Americans know how to live in a civilized way, while the Chinese can live on next to nothing. It concludes:

"Why shall American citizens suffer need and want while strangers take away their bread!

"America for Americans!

"America for Americans!

"America for Strangers."

Fatal Head-On Collision.

BALTIMORE, Md., Aug. 15.-Owing to a misplaced switch, a head-on collision between a freight and passenger train took place this morning on the Hanover division of the morning on the Hanover division of the Western Maryland Railroad. The trains came together near St. Paul. Engineer John Reed of Hanover, Pa., in charge of the passenger train, stuck to his post, and when the crash came was thrown under the wheels of the freight engine, which passed over his thigh. He died a few hours later. The other engineer and freman saved themselves by rumping in time.

HE PELOTS THE DOMINION TO FIG.

TORY ON LAKE ST. LOUIS. Challenger 2 Minutes and 47 Seconds Behind Over a Twelve-Mile Course-Caundian Facht Superior in Windward Work, but the American Boat Better on a Free Run. MONTREAL, Aug. 15.-The Canadian defender

Dominion won the second of the series of races for the Seawanhaka International Challenge Cup to-day. The contest was over a triangula course of four miles on Lake St. Louis, sailed three times over. Each leg of the course was one mile and a third. The first leg. which was from the starting point to a mark opposite the Beaconsfield shore, was a broad reach. The second leg was a beat to windward, and the third leg was a close reach ome. The boats reached the starting line shortly before 11 o'clock, but owing to the lack of a breeze it was decided to postpone the hour for the start. Duggan, who was at the tiller of the Canadian boat, had sail hoisted on the Dominion, and the defender spun around the lake and allowed her peculiar features to be viewed by the spectators. The American crew sensibly preferred to remain inactive until the preparatory gun was fired.

About noon a fair breeze sprung up from the south, and it soon freshened to a good sailing one. At 12:50 o'clock the preparatory gun wa fired, followed by a second gun ten minutes later. In the meantime the Challenger had got out her mainsail and jib, and both boats were jockeying around the line. Duggan got the weather guage, and when the starting gun was fired at 1:05 o'clock the Canadian skipper se cured an advantage, the Dominion crossing the line a trifle ahead. After speeding along almost side by side toward the Beaconsfield buoy for a short time, the Challenger luffed across the Dominion's stern, her object being to get to the windward of the defender. Then followed a pretty luffing match, and it brought out some clever sailing, in which the Challenger, if anything, had the advantage The Challenger set her spinnaker, and the Canadian crew, who were slow in handling the sails, set the Dominion's a few seconds later. The Challenger did not keep her spinnaker out long, but replaced it by a balloon lib.

Crane was still manouvring to get to windward of the defender. He finally succeeded and took the lead. At this point the two boats were near together, and after the contest Duggan said that the Challenger's mainsail had touched the Dominion's spinnaker and that he would be entitled to a foul, but preferred to say nothing about it. The American crew denied that the Challenger's sails had ever touched any part of the defender.

After taking the lead the Challenger made for the first mark, rounding it at 1:20:20, fol-lowed seven seconds later by the Dominion at 1:20:27. It was a very clever bit of sailing on the part of the Americans, but after turning the buoy Duggan retaliated by getting to windward of the Challenger and during the remainder of the leg, which was a beat to wind ward, it was an easy gain for the defender The Dominion again showed her marked superiority in windward work and gained steadily. After several tacks the Dominion made for the second mark, rounding it at 1:36:15. The Challenger missed the mark and had to make a short tack to fetch it, rounding it at 1:37:41%. The Dominion, carrying her mainsail and a working 3ib, increased her lead on the close reach home and rounded the buoy, completing the first round at 1:47:10. The Challenger foliowed at 1:40:10. The Challenger showed herself the better boat in the free run before the wind and on the broad reach materially lessened the defender's lead. The Dominion rounded the mark for the first leg of the second round at 2:01:45, the Challenger following only forty-five seconds later. On the second beat to windward the Dominion beat into the wind in great style and again increased her lead, rounding the second mark at 2:17:93, exactly 2 minutes and 9 seconds ashead of the Challenger. On the second reach to the starting mark Duggan put out a sail which was rather a novelty to the American visitors. It was something between a working iib and balloon jih, and was what might be called a reaching 1th. It helped to carry the defender along quicker than the Challenger, which only carried a working iib. The Dominion rounded the mark at the end of the second round at 2:27:40, the Challenger following 2 minutes and 20 seconds later. The Challenger on the final broad reach made a marked gain on the defender, which rurned the mark only thirty seconds in the lead. What the American boat gained on the reach she lost on the windward beat, and at the second mark the Dominion had increased her lead to 2 minutes and 16 seconds, turning the mark at 2:55:16.

It was apparent now that the Challenger had no chance, and it proved to be an easy win for the defender, which increased her lead on the reach home, crossing the line 2 minutes and 47 seconds ahead of the Challenger. Summary, of each round: periority in windward work and gained steadily After several tacks the Dominion made for the fender he was not the principal owner, and his eally interest in the present challenge practically interest in the present challenge practically precludes the possibility that the syndicate which he represented intended to discard the Defender and build a new boat. That the aluminum boat would need a deal of overhauling before being fit to enter a race is quite generally believed here. Just what her condition is has not been given out, but it is likely that an early examination of her will be made.

Newrout, Aug. 15.—There were no new developments here to-day regarding the cup defender syndicate, although it was reported from Bristol that there was a war on belween Messra. Iselin and Morgan against Duryea and Whitney over the building of a boat. According-to the report, the former say that the Herreshoffs can build only for them, while the latter think they abould have a boat built at Bristol as well as the other men. The report receives little credence here, few yachtsmen believing that Morgan is identified with a syndicate. The fact of his leaving Newport to-morrow noon for a six weeks trip abroad goes to prove this.
Whitney was seen to-night and asked if he knew whether iselin would build, but his only reply was, "I know nothing about it." A prominout cottager who was present at the late meeting of the New York. Yacht Club is reported as easying that Iselin stated at that meeting that he would not build another beat but would have some changes made in the Delender.

There is questions that will probably happen should the Duryea syndicate boat be selected ealfy precludes the possibility that the syndi-to defend the cup, and that is, it will likely be requested that the race be sailed off Newport. Both Durrea and Whitney believe that courses could be laid out off this port that would equal the Sandy Hook courses in every respect, and also do away with the excursion boat annoyance. It is likely that something definits will be announced in a few days.

Foreign Yachtsmen Coming Here to Ar

Aug. 24.

At Anchor at New London. NEW LONDON, Aug. 15.-The fleet of the Atalanta Yacht Club that is making a cruise through Long Island Sound is at anchor in the harbor near the Groton shore. The crules is devoid of much of its interest because of the absence of contests of speed. To-morrow the yachts will go to Shelter Island. Bridgeport gave a splendid reception to the yachtsmen.

C. S. Bomerville's aloop Olgs of the Indian Harbor Yacht Club started on a two weeks' cruise to the eastward yesterday. Louis R. Alberger and H. E. Borrenns are guests of Capt. Somerville, and the yacht will touch at Newport and Shelter Island.

Col. Oliver H. Payns is crunising along the Maine coast on board the big auxiliary Eleanor, which he has chartered from S. L. Stater. Before returning to this port he will stop at Bath, Me., and inspect his new yacht now under construction at the fronworks there.

WHO RILLED F. W. WOODS? Newark Police Think That Tramps Murdered Him-A Suspect Arrested. The Newark police arrested yesterday a man who gave his name as John B. Dwyer. Dwyer is suspected of knowing something about the case of the young man who was found dead with a bullet hole in his forehead near the Lehigh Valley tracks at Waverly just before midnight on Sunday. In a memorandum book in the pocket of the man's coat was this entry: "I am Fred William Woods. My address is 1044 Clifton place, Baltimore, Md." The letters F. W. were tattooed on the young man's arm, F. W. were tattooed on the young man's arm, and he had a Baltimore pawnticket bearing the name of Woods and showing that a silver watch had been pawned for $3.50.

Chief of Folice Hopper sent word to the Baltimore police resterday. An autopsy was made yesterday and showed that the wound could not have been self-inflicted. There were no stains of powder on the flesh. The police believe that the shooting occurred at some distance from the spot where the body was found, and they looked patiently for blood or marks of a struggle. They have a theory that the young man was killed in a freight car which has since been removed.

a struggle. They have a theory that the young man was killed in a freight car which has since been removed.

That the murder was the work of tramps there is little doubt. Waverly is a great rendexyous for tramps, and yet after the shooting not a hobe could be found in the neighborhood by the police.

Late in the evening Dwyer told the police that he left Woods on Sunday night at Lincoin Park, Newark, and that they agreed to meet later at the same spot. He said that Woods was penniless and that they were both panhandling with a view to getting a meal.

He became worried about Woods late on Sunday night and proceeded to the tramp quarters in the freight yard at Waverly, where they had spent the previous night, but could not find any sign of him, and returned to Newark, where he was arrested.

Word was received last night from the father of the victim. It, came from Nelson Place, was arrested.

Word was received last night from the father of the victim. It came from Nelson Place, Baltimore, to which place the family had moved since the young man took to the road. His father said that he would be responsible for the removal of the body to Philadelphia.
